IV. BASIS FOR RELIEF REQUESTED

A. STANDARD FOR ALLOWANCE OF FEES AND EXPENSES

14. Section 330(a) of the Bankruptcy Code provides:

(1) After notice to the parties in interest and the United States Debtor and a hearing, and subject to sections 326, 328, and 329, the court may award to a . . . professional person employed under section 327 or 1103—

(A) reasonable compensation for actual, necessary services rendered by the . . . professional person, or attorney and by any paraprofessional person employed by any such person; and

(B) reimbursement for actual, necessary expenses. . . .

(3) In determining the amount of reasonable compensation to be awarded . . . , the court shall consider the nature, the extent, and the value of such services, taking into account all relevant factors, including—

(A) the time spent on such services;

(B) the rates charged for such services;

(C) whether the services were necessary to the administration of, or beneficial at the time at which the service was rendered toward the completion of, a case under [the Bankruptcy Code];

(D) whether the services were performed within a reasonable amount of time commensurate with the complexity, importance, and nature of the problem, issue, or task addressed; . . . and

(F) whether the compensation is reasonable based on the customary compensation charged by comparably skilled practitioners in cases other than cases under [the Bankruptcy Code].

11 U.S.C. § 330(a). Section 331 of the Bankruptcy Code provides that the Court may award interim fees and expenses, subject to the filing of a final fee application at the appropriate time. See 11 U.S.C. § 331.

15. In evaluating the reasonableness of fees requested under section 330, bankruptcy courts use the lodestar method, computed by multiplying the number of hours reasonably spent on the work by the prevailing hourly rate and then adjusted upward or downward based on certain factors, including those contained in section 330(a)(3). Asarco, L.L.C. v. Jordan Hyden Womble Culbreth & Holzer, P.C. (In re Asarco, L.L.C.), 751 F.3d 291, 295 (5th Cir. 2014) (citations omitted). The Fifth Circuit has held that ““if a fee applicant establishes that its services were “necessary to the administration” of a bankruptcy case or “reasonably likely to benefit” the bankruptcy estate “at the time at which [they were] rendered,” then the services are compensable.”” Edwards Family P’ship v. Johnson (In re Cmty. Home Fin. Servs.), 990 F.3d 422, 427 (5th Cir. 2021) (quoting Barron & Newburger, P.C. v. Tex. Skyline, Ltd. (In re Woerner), 783 F.3d 266, 276 (5th Cir. 2015)).

16. Here, application of any of the Bankruptcy Code’s or the Fifth Circuit’s factors support the allowance of the Requested Fees and the Requested Expenses. As explained in detail above, and as listed in detail on Exhibit A, Munsch Hardt’s Requested Fees and Requested Expenses:

- are reasonable based on the hourly rates charged in relation to the local market and in relation to the rates charged by comparable firms, as indicated by a blended rate under $587.67 per hour;

- are reasonable in light of voluntary reductions / services rendered free of charge, in excess of $5,880.50;
- are reasonable based on the experience and hourly rate of the attorneys used, and given the level of complexity and breadth of issues involved in this case, there was no excessive approach in the utilization of skilled attorneys;
- are reasonable based on the allocation of work and staffing of the representation, and the avoidance of duplication and unnecessary services;
- are reasonable based on the results produced;
- are beneficial because they enabled the Debtor to comply with its duties;
- represent actual time spent by Munsch Hardt on the representation employing contemporaneous and detailed time entries in the process; and
- were incurred by persons skilled and experienced in their various fields of expertise and practice.

17. Therefore, based on the representations in this Application, Exhibit A hereto, the Court's own familiarity with the Bankruptcy Case and the proceedings therein, and on any evidence presented by Munsch Hardt at the hearing on this Application, Munsch Hardt believes that its Application, including its Requested Fees and Requested Expenses, should be fully allowed for prompt, interim payment by the Debtor.

B. TIME SPENT ON SERVICES AND NATURE OF SERVICES RENDERED

18. Exhibit A hereto details the Requested Fees and Requested Expenses that are the subject of this Application. Pursuant to this Court's Local Rule 2016-1, a Fee Application Summary in the form of Appendix L-2016-1-a-2 is included above, which provides a detailed summary of Exhibit A divided by task code categories. The Fee Application Summary reflects the total cost of each category of services, summarizes the nature and purpose of each such category of services rendered, and addresses the results obtained to date.

C. INTERIM APPROVAL

19. Pursuant to section 331 of the Bankruptcy Code, this Court may award interim fees and expenses, subject to the filing of a final fee application at the appropriate time. Unless the Court orders otherwise, interim fee applications should be filed not more than once every 120 days. Here, Munsch Hardt has not filed any application within the prior 120 days. Munsch Hardt is requesting the interim allowance of the Requested Fees and Requested Expenses corresponding to this Interim Period in the sum of $181,750.79 ($171,843.50 in fees and $9,907.29 in expenses), and prompt payment of the remaining outstanding balance of $23,987.67 under such (requested) interim allowance.

D. RATES CHARGED FOR SUCH SERVICES AND THEIR CUSTOMARY NATURE

20. Pursuant to Munsch Hardt's fee arrangement in the Retention Application, Munsch Hardt's Requested Fees have been determined on an hourly basis, utilizing the hourly rates customarily charged by Munsch Hardt to clients of the firm in other representations. Munsch Hardt's rates for this engagement ranged from $500 to $750 for shareholders and from $400 to $475 for associates.

E. REASONABLENESS OF FEES

21. Munsch Hardt submits that its experience and expertise serving as counsel to debtors, and virtually all other constituents in bankruptcy, in other cases of similar or larger size resulted in the efficient handling of tasks. Munsch Hardt further submits that its rates are lower than other law firms with comparable expertise in the region. The professional services rendered by Munsch Hardt described herein have been necessary and appropriate for the Debtor to smoothly transition into chapter 11 bankruptcy, to diligently fulfill its duties under the Bankruptcy Code and to prosecute its restructuring within the framework of the Bankruptcy Code. Compensation for such services as requested is commensurate with the complexity, importance, and nature of the problems, issues, or tasks involved. The professional services were performed expeditiously and in an efficient manner, and without duplication of work. No prior application has been made in this or in any other court for the relief requested herein for the Interim Period.

F. NECESSARY AND BENEFICIAL NATURE OF SERVICES

22. Munsch Hardt submits that its efforts generally described above have been both necessary and beneficial to the Debtor, its estate, creditors, and parties-in-interest, as well as to the administration of the Bankruptcy Case, and would observe that no party has previously objected to any portion of its prior monthly Fee Summaries. Munsch Hardt worked closely with the Debtor's management team, other professionals, and parties-in-interest, and through these efforts obtained significant benefits for the Debtor and its estate.

G. REASONABLENESS OF TIME SPENT AND TIME CONSTRAINTS

23. Munsch Hardt spent only that time which it deemed necessary to accomplish the objectives of the Debtor and its estate in the Bankruptcy Case. At all times, Munsch Hardt has been mindful to reasonably minimize costs and avoid duplication of effort, and submits that its total request for compensation and reimbursement is a reflection of these efforts.

H. EXPENSES

24. Munsch Hardt has incurred $9,907.29 in Requested Expenses relating to the application period. These expenses are passed through to the Debtor "at cost" and consist of (i) data hosting for organization of production received from subpoena duces tecum; (ii) Westlaw charges for legal research; (iii) mailings and service pursuant to the Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rules; (iv) parking and mileage expenses for attending hearings and client meetings; (v) PACER charges and filing fees; (vi) postage for mailing pleadings and other documents as required under the Bankruptcy Code and Bankruptcy Rules; and (vii) hearing transcripts. Munsch Hardt submits that the Requested Expenses are all reasonable and qualify for full reimbursement. A Reimbursement Support Exhibit as required by Local Rule 2016 is included herewith.

V. CONCLUSION

WHEREFORE, PREMISES CONSIDERED, Munsch Hardt respectfully requests that the Court enter an order: (i) granting this Application; (ii) approving the Requested Fees and Requested Expenses on an interim basis; (iii) authorizing and directing the Debtor to pay Munsch Hardt the unpaid balance of $23,987.67 under the Requested Fees and Requested Expenses allowed on an interim basis; and (iv) granting Munsch Hardt such other and further relief as the Court may deem just and proper.
